ENOCHS RESIGNS AS CHAMBER HEAD

A letter of resignation due to illness from William Enoch, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, was accepted with regret at a chamber board meeting held last week.

In the absence of the president, Sam Cava, vice president, conducted the business session which included the appointment of Al Darling as general chairman of the Old Settlers' Day Observance.

The pageant which has traditionally been held on February 22 is being tentatively changed to the first week in May.

Cava, chairman of the industrial committee, reported that his committee is currently sending letters out to potential businesses.

In the absence of Glen Skilrud, membership chairman, his report was submitted by Don Prindle, executive secretary.

It was announced that Joe McKinnon informed a committee of the chamber including Cava, Prindle, Robert Curry and Ed Laney, that the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors has awarded the Campbell Chamber of Commerce $1,200.

Clement D. Johnson, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will speak at the Montgomery Hotel in San Jose on July 9 at a meeting of the San Jose group. Verle Grizzle, Dave Ribble, Ben Strong, Cava and Prindle are making plans to attend.

Announcement was also made that the Junior Chamber plans to plant a new lawn and build flower beds in front of the office on South First Street.

DOG ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED

Mayor Richard Morton this week announced that the Campbell dog ordinance requiring the licensing of dogs within the city limits will be strictly enforced starting today.

In making this announcement Morton explained that ever since the city has been incorporated one of the most frequent complaints to city officials has been about dogs.

The city council felt that they should provide a pound for the city and so negotiated with the county for the use of the county facilities.

Though the ordinance was enacted some time ago the council felt that the ordinance should be strictly enforced only after the area had been given opportunity to grow from rural country into a city.

Now that the city is going into its second year of growth the ordinance will be strictly enforced.

All dogs must be licensed and kept on the owner's property unless on a leash, according to the ordinance. The fee is $1.00 per dog and tags are available at the city clerk's office. Tags purchased now will not expire until June 1955.

Morton said "from now on there will be periodic pickups over and above regular complaints" as a part of the enforcement of the ordinance.

All complaints regarding dogs should be reported at CY 7-1636.

The Double AA Market on the corner of San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Campbell Aves. has plans to "bring Campbell closer to the Double AA" with an $18,000 addition on the west side of the building according to Tony Oreglia, store owner.

The expansion will make an increase of 3,300 square feet of store space possible for the enlargement of all departments. Special attention will be given to the produce department with the addition of many items making possible complete one-stop shopping.

Also in the plans is a paved parking area on the west side of the market for the convenience of Double AA customers.

Oreglia said he expected work to start following the Fourth of July and that the store will not be closed during alterations.

R. Fletscher is the contractor in charge of alterations and the building is owned by Ernest Barbano of Campbell.

Bond Issue Defeated

Attendance Problem Facing School Board

With but twenty per cent of the 10,700 eligible voters casting ballots last Thursday in the Campbell Union school district, the proposition for a $950,000 bond issue for more classrooms, including the proposed new Monroe school, failed to get the required two third majority.

At the same election, however, the proposition to raise the tax ceiling from $1.20 to $1.80 per $100 assessed valuation received a majority vote which was sufficient for the measure to carry.

The vote was 1310 yes and 852 no on the bond proposal, while on the tax increase vote it was 1201 yes and 964 no.

Tonight at the Grammar school the board will meet to organize for the new year, to canvass the votes including the absentee ballots and to hold the regular meeting, including the 1954-55 budget in excess of $1,250,000.

Board members explain that $49,000 in the new bond money would have been used to get about $400,000 tentatively allocated to the district from the state for the new Monroe school. It leaves the district now below the bonded indebtedness level needed to get money from the state.

Four of the nine schools in the district will open in September with double sessions, according to William Henley, district superintendent. They are the Cypress, Moorpark, Quito and the new Dover schools, these sessions being mainly in the primary grades.

There were 4160 enrolled in the schools at the close of the term two weeks ago, and Henley says this number will increase to 5000 by the time school is resumed in September. A survey has disclosed that there are more children of pre-school age in the Campbell Union School district than are those of school age now enrolled, hence in four years when half the present enrollees will have been graduated a 100% new lot will have been enrolled so that by 1958 the schools of the district will have 6500 enrolled.

EDITORIAL

CONFUSING BOUNDARIES

Next Tuesday, the County Clerk, Ed McGehee, is scheduled to retire from office after 32 years of work in the court house. Under terms of the county charter, a successor will then be named by the County Executive.

One of the changes needed in our county governmental system, according to McGehee, would be the reapportionment of supervisorial districts so that each supervisor represents an equal percentage of voters. To this, we heartily agree.

There seems to be a conglomeration of overlapping districts in Santa Clara County, which has brought confusion to most voters. The fifth supervisorial district is heavily populated as it follows a crazy quilt pattern to include Palo Alto, Mountain View, Los Altos, Sunnyvale, Los Gatos, Saratoga, San Tomas, Monta Vista, Cambrian Park and a part of Cupertino.

McGehee feels that voters in one supervisorial district might be completely disenfranchised in the event three supervisors from other districts control board policies.

But other than supervisorial districts, we have school districts, sanitation districts, city limits and other border lines to consider.

It would be most difficult to pick two areas in all Santa Clara County of five square miles each, all within the same set of districts.

And while all this seems like something that should be done, it will not be easy of accomplishment.

NEED FOR A NEW SCHOOL

Because a two-thirds majority was needed for the passage of bonds last Thursday for new school construction, the margin for the bonding of Campbell Union School district was not enough, so there will have to be a delay in starting the new Monroe school.

Four of the nine schools in the district will go on double sessions, and the influx of new children makes the need for more classrooms more apparent than ever. The school board will probably give serious consideration to calling another election in the near future, as there seems to be no alternative in view of the known enrollment increases for the next five years.

The bond issue not only was to provide for the building of Monroe school, but was to have enabled the board to add rooms to other schools and to purchase another school site. As a matter of fact, all that was needed for the $400,000 Monroe School was $49,000 from the district.

GETTING BETTER

Track experts are becoming convinced that there is virtually no such thing as a "ceiling" on athletic achievements. Not many years ago the world shotput record was a little over 51 feet. Yet today Parry O'Brien is heaving the iron ball consistently past the 60 foot mark. The four-minute mile, once thought impossible, is now a matter of record. In the half mile the time of one minute and 52 seconds was a world record back about 1912. The other day a local San Jose high school boy came within a fraction of a second of that time. In the same meet another youth leaped more than 25 feet in the broad jump to break Jesse Owens high school record by five feet and to give promise of some day making the world record 27 feet—another "impossible." In the high jump, the "roof" has been raised to nearly seven feet and will probably reach that figure before long. It just occurs to us, too, that in 1924 the winning pole vault at Olympic Games in Paris was 12 feet, 6 inches, high school height today. Times — and heights — have changed.

FOURTH OF JULY

In celebrating the Fourth of July, there is a tendency on our part to think of it as the day on which our national independence was established.

To be sure, in 1776, that was the day the Declaration of Independence was signed. But it was only a declaration; it did not create a condition of release from British tyranny. It was not the culmination of the fight for liberty, it was but the formal beginning. Years of hard struggle against towering odds were necessary before the freedom of the Colonies became a fact.

But the fight to maintain that freedom has never stopped. It has gone on through the 178 years of our history, sometimes in wars with other nations, once in that tragic Civil War and almost constantly in the less violent conflict in legislative and social fields.

That struggle is being waged today. We are having a part in that struggle. At the moment we are not called upon for the sacrifices of life and limb — but the demand of the hour is to meet the forces both from abroad and at home which would undermine our moral strength and destroy our national unity.

The greatness of a nation depends on the courage and conduct of its people. The brave leaders of the Thirteen Colonies have set for us a high example. Our duty is to live up to it.

So, it is not entirely the observance of our past achievements, but the rededication of ourselves to present responsibilities that we must keep uppermost in thought on the Fourth of July.

Pat Means Holds Girls Town Office

The Eleventh California Girls State program of the American Legion Auxiliary is now in session at the California Junior High School, Sacramento. Elections for City officials were held today and Miss Patricia Anne Means of Campbell was elected City Councilman in the mythical city of Portola.

Miss Means is attending Girls State under the sponsorship of Campbell Unit No. 596, American Legion Auxiliary of Campbell.

In this intensive educational program of a study of government the American Legion Auxiliary endeavors to encourage and develop a deeper interest and understanding of government, through intensive and practical applications of the problems in government, beyond what they get in high schools today. All of their elections whether city, county, or state, will be carried on according to the existing laws of California, and related as closely as possible, applicable to govern such elections.

There are 30 citizens in each of the 12 mythical cities, and the total population of Girls State is 353 citizens and 1 Observer. Girls are chosen by their local high school faculties for outstanding character, leadership, and scholarship. High Schools throughout the State of California are represented by these girls at Girls State.

Miss Sally Willets of Castro Valley, the 1953 Girls State Governor, and Miss Starla Rae Coffee, of Venice, the 1953 Outstanding Citizen are attending and will serve until their 1954 successors are elected and inaugurated on Monday evening, June 28th.

Miss Karen Roy, attending Berkeley High School as an Exchange Student from Switzerland, has been chosen to attend as an Observer.

Tony Schraub Has Boys Town Office

(Special to Campbell Press) SACRAMENTO, June 21 — City officials were chosen today as 24 mythical municipalities organized during the seventeenth annual Boys' State, a laboratory of practical political science sponsored by the California department of the American Legion.

Later in the week-long program, the various cities will organize into counties and the counties, in turn, will organize into a state. Top of office at stake will be that of Boys' State governor, with candidates who, survive the Whig and Federalist party primaries contending for the job.

More than 750 boys from nearly every high school in California are here for the program which, in addition to its political activity, boasts a newspaper, band, glee club, and athletic competition. Each boy was selected as an "outstanding junior" in his respective high school. It is anticipated by Legion officials that he will return to school in the Fall a better leader as the result of his experiences in Sacramento.

Among the city officials named was Tony Schraub who won the post of Police Chief of the city of Burnett. A student at Campbell high school in Campbell he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schraub, 70 Carlyn Avenue, Campbell.

Kiwanis Club Sponsor Cambrian Safety Campaign

A campaign for greater safety in night time riding, sponsored by the Cambrian Park Kiwanis Club, is now under way.

Approximately thirty youngsters in the Cambrian Park area have applied the Scotch-lite, reflective tape on their bicycles as an added precaution.

The strips are now available to the youngsters free of charge, according to Carl Cunningham, president of the local Kiwanis Club.

Children may bring their bikes to Ed Kruljaks Service Station, at the corner of Woodward road and Union avenue, or to the Ross Fields Station on Camden avenue, where tape will be applied under the supervision of the station attendants to insure proper placement.

All parents of the area are urged to have their childrens bikes brought into either station for the free tape.

The Campbell Gambol

CAMPBELL HAD IT FIRST, but tomorrow night the Actors' Repertory Company opens its Summer Circle Theater in the Hotel Lyndon in Los Gatos, featuring "George and Margaret" directed by Paul Beaudry, the show being staged in the unique theatre-in-the-round style with the audience surrounding the playing area, in the same way as introduced at Campbell High School's "Theaterama" on May 14, and which was well received here ... the Los Gatos production is to play Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights during July, with a semi-professional cast.

WARM WEATHER brought a shirt-sleeve turnout to the city council meeting, the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary club meetings, and it seems to have brought out all the noisiest motorcycles and four-cylinder cars to run 'round and 'round the blocks ... seems to have ripened the berries, the 'cots and the early peaches, and make the birds scold and fly at you when you venture too close to their nests where there are fledglings peeping and gasping for food. Seems to bring out the swimmers to the high school pool, and seems to bring grandma out on the porch with a rocking chair and her knitting ... seems to get pop interested in the barbecue in the twilight hours, and the smell of his steaks trickles over the neighborhood ... seems to bring the ice cream wagon and the bakery wagon about a little more often with their strange and inviting sounds, for this is the end of June and summer is here again.

WARNING SIGNS have been posted on the lower Page Dam near Casey Road and at the upper Page Dam which feeds the Lovell Avenue ditch, the warning being against children using the water for swimming or for cruising about on homemade rafts ... the signs say the water is unsafe for swimming and that sort of thing, and it is like they told us not to use the ol' swimming hole in years

RICHARD FIELDS TAKES BRIDE IN AFTERNOON CEREMONY

Miss Rita Marchoke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marchoke of Pittsburg, California, became the bride of Richard Fields in a double ring afternoon ceremony in St. Patrick's Church of San Jose on Saturday, June 26, with Father Paul Duggan officiating.

Rita was given in marriage by her father and as she approached the candlelit altar, she was attired in a ballerina length gown of white lace featuring a sweetheart neckline, beplumed bodice, and skirt of pleated nylon tulle.

Her fingertip veil was secured by a cap of lace and seed pearls and she carried her white prayer book, marked with orchids and bouvardia sprays.

Mrs. Edward Marchoke Jr., matron of honor, served Rita in a ballerina length gown of pink lace and nylon tulle. She wore a bandeau with half-veil, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink carnations.

Kent Gish, who recently returned from duty in Korea, served the benediction as best man.

Mrs. Marchoke attended her daughters wedding in a blue lace afternoon dress. Her accessories were of pink hues, and she wore a corsage of baby pink roses. Mrs. Fields chose a navy blue ensemble with white accessories. A corsage of white gradioli complimented her costume.

Approximately 60 guests feted the newlyweds at the reception held immediately following the ceremony, in the DeAnza Hotel.

For her going-away outfit, Rita donned a beige embroidered linen suit with patent accessories. She pinned on an orchid corsage.

Following a brief honeymoon at Carmel and Lake Tahoe, Rita and Richard will depart for Fort Sam Houston, in San Antonio, Texas, where Richard is serving with the United States Army.

Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Carl Fields, attended local schools and was graduated from San Jose State College in 1952 as a Business Administrative major. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Rita graduated recently from San Jose State as a music major. She is noted for her music achievements and was soloist with the San Jose State Symphony. She is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority, and will return to Campbell in the fall to teach second grade classes and glee club at Cypress School.

Dolores Gomes Outstanding Grad Of Campbell High

Among the recent graduates of Campbell High School was Miss Dolores Gomes, 18, daughter of Mr. and Manuel Gomes of New Jersey avenue.

Dolores graduation was unique in that she is a polio victim and earned her senior credits while in an iron lung as a patient of the County Hospital.

Wearing the traditional cap and gown, and seated in a special wheel chair, Dolores was awarded her diploma by Laurence Hill, principal of Campbell High.

It was in June of 1953, following a trip to Santa Cruz, that Dolores was hospitalized. Recently she has been able to be removed from the iron lung during the day, enabling her to spend Sundays and holidays at home.

The civic organizations of Campbell have been very generous in assisting Dolores in her fight against polio and it is the desire of Mr. and Mrs. Gomes to express their appreciation through the Campbell Press for all the assistance received.

Special thanks is directed to the Campbell High School student body, the Kiwanis Club, Alta Ki, and the Campbell High School P. T. A. for presenting Dolores with her Everett Jennings chair.

Not only financial aid is needed from here on in Dolores recovery, moral support plays an important part too. A newsy letter or visit from friends is a great booster according to Mrs. Gomes, and it will undoubtedly make us feel better too, by playing a part in her recovery, which we hope is soon.

Johnny Oldham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oldham of 177 Camden Drive, is in Cincinnati, Ohio, with his mother today where he is working out with the Cincinnati Reds of the National League, preparatory to signing a contract with one of the big league baseball teams. Johnny, who was graduated from the Campbell High School with the class of 1951, has been contacted at his home in Campbell by, at least five big league scouts on his having been named on the mythical first team of District No. 8 National Collegiate baseball team on his record of having struck out 535 batters in his three years of varsity and one year of freshman playing with the San Jose Spartans.

One scout offered a bonus for signing an American League contract, but as the scouts all arrived at about the same time, it was decided that he be given two round-trip tickets and all expenses paid for by the five teams interested in his services and that he work out one day with each of the teams, after which he will either be sent home as not qualified or have contract and possibly bonus offerings to sign with the team of his choosing.

Johnny took his mother with him, and Tuesday night they were at the Shenley Hotel in Pittsburgh, Pa., where that day he had worked out with the Pirates of the National League. He is working out also with the Phillies at Philadelphia and with the Browns at Baltimore.

The Desolation Valley Wild Area in Eldorado National Forest in an extremely rough, rugged alpine area with elevations from 6500 to 10,020 feet.

The Campbell Rotarians took the roar out of the Lions Monday night in the Pony league with a 21-0 score, piling up the score on nine hits and at the expense of seven errors by the Lions.

After losing their first game of the league schedule, the Rotary nine have now won twice in a row, 16-0 and 21-0 or a total of 37 runs to none for their victims. For the winners, Ralph Martin hit safely three times and scored five runs while Roger Almquist and Mike Brown hit safely three times, the latter also pitching a one hitter. Jim Carbas did the catching for the Rotary nine while the battery for the Lions was Joe Blum and Carlos Ochoa.

On Monday evening the Bishop Hawaiians won 4 to 3 over the Cambrian Kiwanians, thus remaining undefeated in the Pony loop. Shig Inouye came in to relieve faltering Anthony Piazza of the mound for the Hawaiians and saved the game. John Mazzapino was the team receiver. Battery for the Kiwanians was Dave Madril catching and Tom DiPollina, pitching.

Tuesday night the powerful Campbell Lumber company team humbled the Campbell Kiwanians 16 to 0 behind the no hit-no run performance of Don Ritajima. This win leaves the Lumbermen and the Bishop Hawaiians undefeated and ties for the league leadership. Bruce Viles hit three for three for the winners. Ron Shelton received Titajima's slants. The Kiwanians battery was Harvey Alfred and Al Knox.

The Campbell American Legion team took Avilas Market to the tune of 8 to 3 in their Tuesday afternoon encounter, this being the Legion Post's first game. Steve Hirose banged out two hits. Jim Reed hurled for the Legion allowing but two hits with Dan Fritch behind the bat. Battery for the Avilas was Warren Roberts and Terry Carter.

MRS. RUTH MATHEWS IS FATALLY INJURED IN LOCAL HIGHWAY CRASH

Mrs. Ruth Mathews, 39, wife of Berkeley Mathews, vice-principal and physical education instructor of Union Elementary school, passed away Saturday evening, 6½ hours after her car collided with a truck and trailer at Camden avenue and the San Jose-Los Gatos road. Mrs. Mathews was returning from Cambrian Plaza, to the Mathews residence on Summit Way when the accident occurred.

Joe Rios, 27, of Brentwood, driver of the heavy truck, was not injured, nor was he cited after Highway Patrolmen concluded Mrs. Mathews apparently entered the arterial without noticing the oncoming truck.

In 1951, Mrs. Mathews served as nurse at Union School, and is noted for her outstanding work at the First Methodist Church of Los Gatos.

Besides her husband, survivors include a daughter, Priscilla, 6, and son Danny, aged 5.

Memorial services were conducted at 10 a. m. Tuesday, in the First Methodist Church of Los Gatos.

The Weyerhaeuser Timber Company has announced a new policy for its vast land holdings in Oregon and Washington that indicates an attitude which should be more widespread.

The company is opening all land except that actually being logged to what it calls "multiple recreation use." This means the public interested in fishing, hunting and camping will be welcomed with open arms rather than with "Keep Out" signs.

The rumors have been more than just recurrent that Ted Williams did not mean it when he said in a national magazine that this would be his last year in baseball. And with his broken collarbone keeping him out at the start of the season plus the virus that sidelined him during June, it looks as if he has a ready-made excuse if he wants to appear to have changed his mind. He can say the badly interrupted 1954 season is not the kind he wants as his valedictory.

Department of Frustration: It's hard to think of a more frustrating effort than that turned in by Jim Turnesa in Los Angeles in 1948 when he shot a 280 in the U.S. Open golf tournament to break the old Open record by a stroke—and finished third. Jimmy Demaret turned in a 278 and even he lost to Bantam Hear Pat Herson's Lucky Lager play-by-play re-creations of major league games of the day over KYA. For the week of July 1 the broadcast times for major league games are: Sunday (White Sox-Indians), 11:15 a.m.; Monday (Phillies-Giants), Tuesday (Braves-Cubs), Wednesday (Red Sox-Yankees), Thursday (Orioles-Indians), Friday (Pirates-Giants), Saturday (Yankees-Nationals), Monday through Saturday broadcasts at 10:30 a.m.

Ben Hogan who really shattered the record—and Turnesa and Demaret along with it—was brilliant 276.

It would be hard to think of a bigger return on any investment than that on an original National League baseball franchise. When the loop was organized over a friendly bottle of beer in 1876 the franchise price was a flat $10. Some of these same franchises are valued today at several million dollars—if you could buy them.

Florence Chadwick, the San Diego channel swimmer, says her proposed swim across the Strait of Juan de Fuca from Victoria, B.C., to Port Angeles, Wash., will be the toughest of her career.

Bobby Bragan, the spirited manager of the Hollywood Stars, admits that this will be his last year as an active catcher. The 35-year-old pilot says it is getting harder and harder for him to catch and he plans to be a bench manager after this season. This helps point up what has been said numerous times—that being a playing manager is just making a tough job that much tougher.

The San Francisco Seals are anxious for their next crack at the Oakland Oaks. The Acorns knocked some of the luster off the Seals rise from the PCL basement by taking five out of seven in Seals Stadium recently.

However the SF boys feel that the series was not indicative. They point out that Oakland got the best week of pitching Charley Dressen's boys have had all year and still the Seals were in every game all the way.

As a matter of fact the upstart Seals feel they can reverse the five-of-seven treatment next time.

Christian Science

The spiritual basis of man's true independence will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God".

Man's God-given freedom will be brought out in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following passages (227:14-16, 24-26):

"Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man... Citizens of the world, accept the glorious liberty of the children of God, and be free! This is your divine right."

Among the passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible is the following (Isaiah 33:22): "For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."

Urge Congressmen To Block Colorado Storage Project

"If Congress approves the billion dollar proposed Upper Colorado storage program, another $2,835,300 in federal debt will have to be added to the $774,100,000 share of the total federal debt which the people of Santa Clara county already owe," California Taxpayers' association warned today, urging that California congressmen actively oppose H. R. 4449.

This first billion dollar measure would cover only the "initial phase" of a series of projects in the Upper Colorado basin, to be built by the federal bureau of reclamation to irrigate desert lands, Earle V. Grover, president of the state-wide organization, said today. For California as a whole, it would add $93,200,000 to the state's $25,443,600,000 share of the present $273,000,000,000 national debt.

The billion dollar proposal, H. R. 4449, has already gotten to the House Interior and Insular Affairs committee by a 13 to 12 vote and is before the House Rules committee.

Congressman Charles S. Gubser, of Gilroy, as well as each of the other members of the California congressional delegation, has been asked by the Taxpayers' association to fight this "opening wedge" billion dollar Upper Colorado storage proposal, Grover said, on the ground that there is no economic or social justification for more high cost irrigation development of desert land at a time when we are plagued with costly subsidized surpluses.

As was brought out at the May 3 congressional hearings on the measure, it would cost the nation's taxpayers $2,700 per acre in interest charges alone or about $370,000 for the average size farm in the area proposed to be irrigated.

"Serious questions regarding both economic and engineering features of this proposed Upper Colorado storage project have been raised in the official report made to the Interior department by the state of California—a report in which both Governor Knight and California's Colorado River board concurred," Grover said.

"Every economically unsound proposal for the use of Colorado River water seriously endangers California's share of the water from that river—as well as wasting public funds," he declared.

NEW BOOK BY GILBERT LATHROP OF CAMPBELL IS JUST OFF PRESS

Gilbert A. Lathrop of 306 N. Winchester Road is the author of a new book, "Little Engines and Big Men" published by the Caxton Printers, Ltd. It is a book of 325 pages with 28 illustrations dealing with the men and the women who built and later worked on narrow-gauge railroads in Colorado.

The little engines were the tiny coal burning locomotives that peanut whistled their way through mile-deep canyons and over heavily timbered passes of the Rockies at the turn of the century, while the big men were those who kept the little engines and their toy sized cars operating through blizzards, snow slides and floods. Of these many railroads, only the Denver and Rio Grande remain as the proud offspring of their Tom Thumb parents.

Lathrop is the author of several books and numerous magazine stories. His father, Lewis R. Lathrop hired out in 1881 on the Denver and Rio Grande when it was a narrow gauge line and set up the road's best passenger run until the change over to standard gauge. The Campbell man spent 15 years as a fireman, brakeman and conductor on the D&RG. His railroad stories have appeared in numerous national magazines over the past 25 years and he is a recognized authority on the narrow gauges.

Mr. Lathrop is at present employed as an engine foreman on the Western Railroad.

CHINCHILLAS Like the one above held by Al Darling of Campbell are to have their pelts used for coats and for coats with a ready market with furriers. Fur Breeders of America Farm in Campbell is the largest chinchilla farm in Santa Clara County.

CHINCHILLA PELTS ARE MOVING TO READY EASTERN MARKET

By Jane Gugel

Top quality chinchilla pelts brought $175 per skin last week in New York at the first chinchilla fur auction in the past thirty years, according to Al Darling, owner of the Fur Breeders Agency in Campbell. Approximately 5,500 pelts were auctioned and the lowest any pelt brought was $11.00.

All breeding stock in the United States is based on eleven chinchilla lanagars captured in South America in 1923 in their native haunts where they are now virtually extinct.

Now that the initial "get rich quick" attitude toward this type of ranching is more or less dying out, conscientious breeders such as the Campbell agency are line breeding for the purpose of producing quality pelts. In keeping with this program they are culling 50% of the young in the first year.

To achieve line breeding Darling has put his ranch under the genetic control of Brenon Associates of Inglewood, California headed by Dr. H. C. Brenon.

The small rodents average from 1 to 4 young a litter and may be bred three times a year. Breeding in the local agency has been cut to twice a year thus forcing the animals to rest as frequent breeding can materially shorten the life of the animal. To quote Darling "We don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg."

Temperatures above 90 degrees are dangerous to the chinchilla so for this reason the Fur Breeders Agency facilities are air conditioned.

Because the animals may fight when they are cornered especially at the time they are being bred the Darlings are changing from square cages to round ones thereby avoiding the corners and the fights.

At the Campbell ranch the animals are fed on chinchilla pellets and alfalfa hay with some sunflower seeds to give variety. Total cost for feeding a pair runs about $5.00 a year.

Though the local ranch has raised 300 to 400 animals at all times there is no odor about the premises which are kept immaculate. There are about 150 chinchilla ranches in Santa Clara County of which the Fur Breeders Agency is the largest. These ranches are raising approximately 20,000 of the 600,000 chinchillas in the state of California.

The glamorous aura which has surrounded the chinchilla coat is

Burning Permits Required In City

With the increased fire hazard caused by dry weeds and hot weather the Campbell Fire Department this week reminded Campbell residents that burning rules must be complied with within the city.

It is unlawful to do any outdoor burning other than in barbecue pits, fireplaces or approved incinerators unless a permit has been obtained from the Campbell Fire Department.

Burning hours have been set from 6:00 to 12 o'clock noon Tuesday through Saturday and 6:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. on Sunday. Burning at any other time is prohibited without a special permit.

Residents are also requested to call the fire department at FR 8-7115 unless they are reporting a fire.

San Tomas Postal Change Is Called

Bids were being called at the postoffice in Campbell today for opening Saturday, July 10 for space in a convenient location at San Tomas for a contract station where parcel post, ordinary, insured and other services may be rendered, stamps sold and equipment installed. The location sought is near the intersection of San Tomas Road and Smith or Elam Avenue.

The contract at present is held by Mrs. Hester Stephens in her bake shop. Mrs. Stephens lost her son, a Campbell high school student, in an automobile accident recently, and is closing out her business to recuperate from the shock.
